Why are our prices in Rupiah?

Our prices changed from Euro to Indonesian Rupiah to comply with a new law that all companies have to quote their products in Indonesian Rupiah (IDR or Rp).

By 1 Jan 2016, all companies have to comply or risk penalties that include fines and bans from trading.

Moving to the Indonesian rupiah will have a small impact on making deposits and payments with us.

This post describes what you need to know.

The main difference for you will be that since we now have a fixed Rupiah rate for our products instead of a fixed Euro rate, (what we used before), we will now have to convert from Rupiah to Euro or other major currency. Before, this was the other way around.

For the conversion we will use the currency converter you can find at the bottom of the PRICE page on our web site.

When you make a reservation we like the booked accommodation to be paid in advance. This is possible on a bank in Europe with a Euro account.

2.250.000,- Rp at the time of reservation and 45 days before arrival the balance. What the exact amount in Euro will be, depends on the exchange rate at the time of payment. If your currency is US$, or any other currency, you have this option as well.

For you the change is actually nihil, as you had to deal with another currency and make an international transfer, any ways.

An alternative could be Paypal. We are starting to use it and depending where you live, it is sometimes a better alternative.

When you live in Indonesia and have an Indonesian account, it is of course easiest to pay with your local account.

Once you are in the resort and are at the end of your stay, you will receive the invoice in Rupiah. That time you can either pay cash in Euro or Rupiah. Or by credit card as long as it is issued by Visa or Master.

Payments by credit card in Indonesia are only accepted in Rupiah so no currency conversions need to be made any more.

A last alternative is an internet payment to either our European account in Euro, our Indonesian account in Rupiah or Paypal with whatever is possible.

In case of bank or Paypal transfers, the transfer costs are for the transferring party.

We do not charge extra for credit card payments in the resort.

For exchange rate conversions we use the currency calculator as standing on the bottom of the PRICE page of our web site: WWW.LUMBALUMBADIVING.COM

Payment terms:

- To confirm your reservation we require a non-refundable 2.250.000,- Rupiah per room.
- Total amount of booked accommodation only, is due 45 days prior to arrival.
- Transfer costs are for transferring party. Contact us for bank details.

Cancellations policy:

In principal, deposits paid in advance, are non-refundable, however, depending on the reason of cancellation, can remain valid until a later date.

In the resort you can pay with:

- Cash Indonesian Rupiah and Euro.
- Credit card Master and Visa (PIN required in case your card comes with one).
